

Show Judges for 2017 Texas Woodcarving Championship

Pat Moore

Pat Moore from Kindred, North Dakota has been painting and sculpting since her early childhood. After college she became involved in woodcarving, teaching her technique since the early 80's. She is both a gifted carver and painter and is especially known for her miniature realistic wildlife pieces.

Several local, regional and international publications have featured her in their magazines. "Wood Carving Illustrated" spring 2006 and "Chip Chats" winter 2009 both have done articles. In 2007, Pat was filmed for HGTV's "That's Clever" TV program demonstrating carving a Miniature Flying Mallard.

As a teacher, she enjoys sharing her woodcarving and painting techniques, both in adult education programs and nationally known seminars throughout the country.

John Engler

John began carving and painting while a student attending Southwest Missouri State University. He was awarded a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in 1983. Since then he has owned and operated a design studio and woodcarving business.

Today John travels nationwide teaching the art of relief carving and watercolor painting. In addition, he accepts special orders and commission work., specializing in architectural carvings such as fireplace mantles and doors.
